Rise in World's Public Health Has Increased Unrest

Today's Quotation
Themistocles told the Adriatic that he brought two gods with him, Persuasion and Force. They replied: "We also have two gods on our side, Poverty and Despair."

—Herodotus

Although not recommended for light reading the monthly bulletins issued by the Population Reference Bureau, 1507 M st., N. W., Washington 5, D. C., are to this writer the most challenging publications of our time.

The P.R.B. I should add, is an organization founded in 1929 as a nonprofit scientific educational organization for the purpose of gathering, correlating, and distributing population data. Among the great names associated with it were the late Ellsworth Huntington, and still serving today William Vogt, international authority on soils and food resources.

Why do I say these Population Bulletins are the most challenging and significant of our day? Because the most critical question before today's people is the mysterious origin of international unrest and war. One of the great precepts of the Population Reference Bureau is the warning that modern science has unconsciously built up the causes of war by improving public health throughout the world faster than it has improved food resources — thereby increasing the ratio of hungry people to total world population.

Let me quote for you a part of the June Bulletin's article on "The Speed-Up in Population Growth":

Today modern medicine and technology can cut death rates in half almost overnight in agrarian lands of intense population pressure.

Changes in death rates rather than in birth rates are speeding up the tempo of population growth for most of the human race. In Ceylon, for example, a malaria control campaign consisting of residual spraying of houses with DDT has unleashed an alarming increase in the rate of population growth.

Ceylon's death dropped one-third in one year — from 20.5 in 1946 to 14.3 in 1947. This was a fluke. The average for 1940-45 was 20.5; for 1946-50 was 14.6.

In 1950, the birth rate held at 40.3. With the death rate at 12.6 the annual rate of natural increase — excess of births over deaths — amounted to about 28 per thousand. The annual rate of growth, therefore, was nearly 3 per cent. At that rate, numbers will double in 25 years or less.

Ceylon has shown the world how quickly, easily and cheaply some death control measures which have become generally available since World War II can touch off population explosions in lands where over half the human race lives.

People are accustomed to think that population explosions are caused by rocketing birth rates. This has rarely been true. As in the past, changes in death rates rather than in birth rates set the tempo of population growth.

It took about 70 years for the death rate of the Western world to drop as much as it did in one year in Ceylon. Sweden is a typical example. There the death dropped slowly — from 20 in 1848-52 to 14 in 1918-22.

The above ends our quotation from Population Bulletin.

Its import is perfectly clear to the peoples of the civilized West. Any country which undertakes to raise the public health of a backward land automatically underwrites also the enterprise of finding ways for that land to support its larger population.

Either that — or we raise up for ourselves the spectre of never-ending international unrest and threat of war.

Oil Test May Be Completed Today

Operators are drilling beyond 3,500 feet at the King Estate No. 1 wildcat test near Guernsey and drilling continues.

The well probably will be completed today. Regardless of the finding the drillers, Broday Co., will move to another site in the same section, the Edwards-Foster No. 1.

Markets

STOCK MARKET

New York, June 16 (UP) — Stocks opened steady to firm in light trading today.

A long list held at the previous close. Net changes elsewhere seldom got beyond fractions, American Cyanamid, an exception, lost 1 1/4 points.

Stocks did little more than hold their own last week. The industrial and railroad averages rose but their gain was offset by a decline in utilities.

The behavior of the list, however, was seen as favorable by the market.

Commuters Are Stranded in N. Y. Rail Strike

New York, June 16 (AP) — An engineers strike shut down the Long Island Rail Road today, STRANDING COMMUTERS who scurried for every other available sort of transportation.

Traffic was jammed bumper-to-bumper on the big parkways leading into the city after members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers struck the nation's biggest commuter railroad.

The motormen and engineers began leaving their jobs shortly after 3 a. m. (EST). A short time later the railroad announced that "all train service is suspended until further notice."

All available busses were pressed into service. All were crowded to the doors. One commuter described passengers as "Hanging from the rafters."

Many commuters, taking a look at the crowded highways, simply turned around and went home without trying to get to their jobs in New York City.

The road carries a 2-way total of about 300,000 daily riders, the vast majority commuters who live on Long Island and work in New York.

The New York City Board of Transportation has every available piece of equipment "standing by" at key points in Queens to pick up passengers who reached outlying areas by bus and auto.

Although the strike had been rumored for the last few weeks, it caught many commuters by surprise. It stems from the application of the national railroad agreement of last May 23 to the Long Island.

A UNION official said about 360 engineers and motormen were involved. He said the strike action was based on "a disagreement over operating rules, seniority and passenger duty."

IN Washington, a spokesman for the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers said that the Long Island was "one of 64 railroads not included in the settlement reached last May."

But Ross Barr of the National Mediation Board, who has been trying to resolve differences which led to the strike, said the walkout "looks like a more or less wild cat affair."

He added, "We're making every effort to get the parties together."

Later Barr reported that National Mediation Chairman Lovett Edwards had joined in efforts to end the strike. He said that Edwards, in Washington, had telephoned Percy Shindler, president of the Brotherhood in Cleveland.

Barr said he was trying to arrange a meeting between the union and the company later today.

Soldier Dies in Ammunition Explosion

Haedde, Korea, June 16 (AP) — A U. S. soldier was killed today and 33 other persons were missing or injured in thunderous explosions in the U. S. Army's biggest ammunition dump in Korea.

Two American soldiers are missing and four have been hospitalized, an official Army announcement from the U. S. Second Logistical Command.

South Korean police said they suspected sabotage by guerrillas. The first blast — cause unknown — broke windows and knocked down plaster in buildings in Pusan, 13 miles south. Two other huge explosions followed within 15 minutes. There was a fourth blast later.

Fires mushroomed in the area. Gray clouds of phosphorus smoke rose into the sky. Rockets shot wildly about. Exploding flames touched up the scene with bright colors. Some shells and flames flew two miles, grass fires flamed up in the dry hills ringing the area.

Some 30,000 residents of Haedde — their thatched-roof houses on fire — and nearby villages took off for safer areas.

U. S. soldiers in tanks edged into the still flaming outer reaches of the blast area late in the afternoon to survey the probability of additional explosions.

A mid-afternoon wind swung flames away from untouched area of the dump, giving hope that further destruction could be halted.

Officers Seeking Hit-Run Driver

An auto driven by Bobby R. Rosenbaum was sideswiped on the Patmos road Saturday night and the driver of the second vehicle kept going.

Although nobody was hurt, the Rosenbaum car was damaged. State Officer Milton Mosier is seeking the driver.

Committee Plans to Help Junior Calf Sales

The Livestock Show Committee of the Hope Chamber of Commerce met in the Chamber office, last week Chairman John Wilson presided, with Terrell Cornelius, A. D. Brannon, Charles Wylie, Mack Brown, Bob Daniels, and Bob Shivers, Manager of the Livestock Show, in attendance.

The main problem for consideration by the group was the sale of the Jr. Division fat calves. These Jr. boys put forth a lot of effort and money in fitting a calf for the show. The sale of these calves at the show is a very important factor in the success in the Jr. Division.

Several ideas were discussed and some tentative plans were made for this year's sale. The committee is contacting the various Chambers of Commerce over the district to enlist the help in addition to help from local individuals and business men.

Court Rules Teachers Can Be on Boards

Little Rock, June 16 (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court held today that a superintendent-teacher or a teacher were eligible to be members of a County board of education.

The ruling reversed Montgomery Circuit Judge C. Floyd Huff, Jr. It dismissed a suit under which Huff had ordered two members of the Montgomery County Board ousted.

The Supreme Court said that a prohibition against members of county boards being persons who hold "any salaried or fee office of the state or any political subdivision" did not apply in this case.

It held specifically that Ode Maddox and Winfred Coffman, the board members involved, were employees and not officers of a "political subdivision" (School district). Maddox is superintendent and teacher in Oden school District No. 43. Coffman is a teacher in Caddo Gap School District No. 30.

The Supreme Court's unanimous opinion, written by Associate Justice George Rose Smith, said:

"It is clear that the school teacher, whose tenure, compensation duties are fixed by his contract with the school board is an employee rather than an officer. The position of a superintendent comes somewhat closer to the dividing line, but we think that it, too, lies on the side of employment."

Of course we are not speaking of a county superintendent of schools nor of a superintendent in those more populous districts for which special legislation has been enacted. Our study of the status convinces us that the superintendent of a small school district is not a public officer."

The Supreme Court upheld the second degree murder convictions of a father and a son in the fatal knifing of a Union County cafe operator.

The court rejected the appeal of Robert Woote, 52, from his conviction and 21-year sentence in the slay of R. A. Baker of Strong.

And, in a separate opinion, it took the same action on the appeal from the 10-year sentence of Melton Woolen, Robert Woote's son.

Baker was killed last Oct. 1. The Supreme Court said testimony was that the stabbing occurred after Baker had ejected Melton Woolen from a cafe because of alleged improper conduct.

The Supreme Court upheld a Hempstead Circuit Court ward of $390 for Barto Hill against Frank Slatton and others. The judgment involved alleged wrongful cutting of timber.

The Supreme Court ruled that E. O. Hanes was entitled to possession of a house and lot in Ft. Smith against the claim of Clyde H. Frazier and two other step children.

Hanes, the Court recited, had given possession of the house to his legally-separated — but not divorced — wife during her life time. After her death in 1945, he sued her recovery of the property. The action was resisted by Frazier and the other children of Mrs. Hanes by a marriage which preceded that to Hanes. The Sebastian Chancery Court awarded the property to Hanes; the Supreme Court agreed in the finding.

Women Have the Best Chance to Live to Be 100 Years Old, Some Men Achieve That Age

By HAL BOYLE

New York, June 16 (AP) — Do you want to live to be 100? There are more people trying to reach this goal every year and the best way to start is to be born a girl.

Just as women can hold on to a dollar better than men, they now hold on longer to life. Lady centenarians by a wide margin. You can't beat the feminine passion for beauty, even in the matter of piling up years. They won't let go of a good thing.

How can men live longer? That is very easy. Take a tip from the girls, fellows. Live like they do. Take it easy.

Dr. Morris Fishbein gave the key to longer life the other day: "Imperturbability." That is a 7-syllabled word meaning "Calm down — don't get excited."

Women instinctively and by preference lead quieter lives than men. They conserve their energy better. Men can get excited over anything trifling thing, and do. Nothing really excites a woman except, possibly a man. And as soon as she gets him she again usually resumes the even tenor — I mean soprano — of her ways.

This was crisply put by a lady centenarian some years ago who explained her victory over time by saying:

"Whenever I had an emergency in my life, I met it by going to bed."

Most housewives intuitively know this is good advice. What happens if something at home upsets them? They don't pound their heads against the kitchen wall. They go into the bedroom and lie down and have a nice, relaxing cry — and arise refreshed.

There is no reason why a man can't follow this example in office or factory. If he comes home

Red Attack Is Thrown Back, Losses Heavy

Seoul Korea, June 16 (AP) — Infantrymen of the U. S. 45th Division today smashed an artillery-supported Chinese attack on a hill formation on the Western Front. The five-day-old battle has cost the Reds more than 1,000 casualties.

The reinforced Americans knocked back about 750 Chinese in a bitter seven-hour scrap. The Reds' objective was the bottom part of a T-shaped hill west of Chorwon. U. S. troops held three knobs of the hill.

Fighting also continued at a stepped-up pace at other friction spots on the 155-mile front. There were brisk clashes Sunday near Panmunjom, Koranpo and Yonchon in the West around Kumhwa Kimsong and the Pukha River in the center, and near the Punch Bowl in the East.

U. S. Eighth Army staff officers have offered no explanation of the stepped-up fighting, the toughest of the year.

American Sabre jet pilots reported three Communist jets destroyed and one damaged in two fights Sunday south of the Manchurian border.

Second Lt. James Low of Sausalito, Calif., only six months out of pilot school, shot down one and became America's 17th jet ace with a total of five MIG kills. He has been in Korea only six weeks.

In the fight for T-bill Amoylens and Chinese fired heavy artillery and mortar barrages. Red shelling continued at perhaps the fastest pace of the nearly two-year-old war, knocked out land communications between 45th Division headquarters and U. S. troops on Hill T.

Prison Riots Laid to Red Negotiators

Munsan, Korea, June 16 (AP) — The senior United Nations truce negotiator today charged the Communists with responsibility for Red prisoner of war riots and for continuing "a bloody and profitless war."

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison accused the Red delegates at a fruitless 22-minute session of directing "your captured personnel at Koje Island to endanger their lives to further your nefarious schemes."

Hundreds of captured Reds have been killed or wounded on Koje Island since the Communists took over. The U. N. demand that no prisoner be forcibly repatriated. Only 70,000 of 158,000 captured Reds have expressed willingness to return to Red rule.

Nobody Hurt in Wreck Near McNab Sunday

Two Saratoga men escaped serious injury early Sunday when the car in which they were riding was sideswiped by a pickup truck, 2 miles north of McNab on Highway 55, State Policeman Travis Ward said today.

The truck was driven by Robert Hickman, Negro, resident of that area. The accident occurred in a curve. Hickman was driving on the wrong side of the road and is charged with drunk driving. Officer Ward reported.

Occupants of the car, James King, driver and Charles W. McKinnis, were not hurt but property damage was heavy.

Deaths From Heat Now Total 76

By The Associated Press
Deaths mounted today under the hot pack of heat and humidity that covered most of the nation.

A survey by the Associated Press showed a 4-day total of 76, the toll included six deaths attributed directly to the effects of the oppressive weather, and 70 drownings.

The heat wave lay like a steaming blanket on a huge section of the U. S. that extended from Texas eastward and northward to the Atlantic coast.

Records were melted in many cities. Sunday readings reached as high as 108 degrees, Beaver, Okla. reported 108.

Boatner Plans Work, Play Program

Koje Island, Korea, June 16 (AP) — The U. S. Eighth Army plans an extensive work-and-play program for Communist prisoners of war on Koje once the POWs recognize Allied authority completely.

Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, Koje commander, hopes to start the program soon after he finishes splitting the prison large, unruly compounds into small units.

The dispersal operations probably will be completed within a week.

Field Marshal Lord Alexander, Britain's minister of defense, inspected the POW stockades today. He toured the island in a jeep driven by Boatner.

Alexander was accompanied by Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander, and a party of leading military and diplomatic figures.

The group drove through the ruins of Compound 76 where more than 6,000 prisoners fought desperately to prevent being broken up into small units. Boatner told Alexander it was "a hell of a sight."

Alexander made no public statement while on Koje.

But Selwyn Lloyd, British minister of state for foreign affairs, said "obviously the situation is being cleared up very fast and a great deal of good work is being done."

Hyatt-Buckley Vows Exchanged

Miss Joy Lynne Buckley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Buckley of Pine Bluff, became the bride of Charles Stuart Hyatt, son of Mrs. B. C. Hyatt and the late Mr. Hyatt of this city, at the First Methodist Church, Pine Bluff, at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 1 with Dr. Kenneth L. Spore officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The altar was lighted with tall white candles tied together with white satin cords on each side of the chancel which was decorated with white gladioli and daisy chrysanthemums against a background of fern and huckleberry sprays.

Mrs. Walter Thels, organist, provided a program of nuptial music, and accompanied Miss Jean McAnally who sang "I Love Thee," "At Dawning," and "The Lord's Prayer." "O Perfect Love" was played softly during the exchange of vows.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a gown of Swiss marquisette. The bodice was a corolla hugging the waist and the shoulders molded with pale organically appliqued blossoms that spilled on the skirt. The long fitted sleeves were appliqued with the same flowers and came to a point over the hands. The full skirt swept into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a lace half hat bordered with lace petals edged with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of stephanotis centered with white orchids.

Miss Margaret Jean Ellis of Dallas was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Cummins, Mrs. George Frazier of Austin, Texas, sister of the groom, Mrs. Buddy Duke of Stuttgart, and Miss Virginia Vansickle of El Dorado. They wore identical ballerina frocks of embroidered white organza over flower blue taffeta, fashioned with a deep v-neckline front and back, with tiny drop shoulder cap sleeves. Wide blue taffeta sashes tied in a bow at the side front. They wore short white gloves and pumps with circles of white leaves in the hair and carried baskets of garden flowers.

Carroll Hyatt of Chicago served his brother as best man and the groomsmen were Robert Hyatt, James H. Buckley of Fort Worth, Texas, George Frazier and Thomas Riley of Little Rock.

Mrs. A. H. Bellamy and Mrs. Luke Wilson of Greenville, Mississippi, lighted the candles. They wore aqua green and yellow ballerina frocks with matching wrist corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckley entertained in the garden of their home immediately following the ceremony. Mr. Buckley and his son, James H. Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Mann and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Whitlaw greeted the guests at the entrance to the garden. Mrs. Buckley and Mrs. Hyatt received with the bride and groom and girls of the wedding party. Mrs. Buckley wore an afternoon gown of cream beige rosemont lace with powder blue accessories and Mrs. Hyatt was dressed in petal pink chantilly lace with white accessories and both had shoulder corsages of orchids.

Tall baskets of white flowers were against the hedge about the garden and the bride's table in a nook under the trees. The table was covered with an organza cloth over flower-blue satin, and centered with an arrangement of white stock, white gladioli, and pink radiance roses, with a wide base of pink hydrangeas and accented with blue larkspur. At the corner were the baskets of flowers which had been carried by the bridesmaids. The three tiered wedding cake was in all white. Mrs. A. L. Underhill, Mrs. Sloan Cummins, Mrs. D. A. Welch and Mrs. E. A. Adams assisted by Miss Miriam Nethery, Miss Betty Welch, Miss Evelyn Clifford, Mrs. Ray Bruce, Mrs. A. H. Bellamy, Jr., and Mrs. Cernon Clem presided at the refreshment table. Miss Bettye Lynn Mann and Mrs. Glenn L. Williams kept the bride's book.

Ex-Prison Warden Brought to Trial

Denver, June 16 (P) — Roy Best, suspended Colorado penitentiary warden, goes on trial today in U. S. District Court on charges arising out of disciplinary measures taken against convicts after an attempted break 11 months ago.

Best, his former deputy warden and seven guards at the prison are charged with violating the civil rights of six convicts punished after the riot July 16, 1951, in which two guards were shot. The government alleges the six were "tortured and abused." Best denies that, but acknowledges they were whipped with a leather strap.

Co-defendants with Best are Oran Doolen, former deputy warden; Guard Capt. Lovell W. Gentry and James W. Kinney; Guard Lt. Clinton B. Leonard and Guards Ira L. Binger, James T. Reilly, William J. Davis Jr., and Terry W. Trout. The punished convicts will be keywitnesses in the trial.

Best and each of the defendants are charged with seven counts. Conviction on each count carries a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than 10 years.

Guests were invited into the gift room by Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Greenlee and Mrs. H. C. Boyd.

For travel Mrs. Hyatt wore a powder blue nubby linen suit with white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans and along the Gulf Coast, Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt will spend the summer in Fayetteville where he will study at the University and in the fall will make their home in Little Rock. They are both graduates of Hendrix College.

Coming and Going

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brimmage of Andrews, Texas, arrived Saturday for a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Brimmage's sister, Mrs. Joe Osborn and family.

Miss Ruth Ellen Gibson of Patmos left last week for Little Rock where she will enter Capital City Business College.

Mrs. Alice Wilson and children, Herman and Virginia Davis, and Maggie Plummer of Dallas, Texas, were the week end guests of their son and brother, Bill Wilson and family, Margie Nell and Charlotte Wilson accompanied them home for an extended visit.

Brenda Lou Payne has returned from a visit in Kilgore, Texas. She was accompanied home by her aunt, Mrs. Howard Baggett.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Hampton of Patmos spent the week end in Shreveport and attended the Louisiana Hayride Saturday and the car races Sunday.

Mrs. E. O. Wingfield has returned from Little Rock where she visited her sister, Mrs. W. N. Stannus and Mr. Stannus.

Gubernatorial Campaigns in Full Swing

By The Associated Press
Three of the five Democratic gubernatorial candidates got in some vigorous activity over the weekend as all of them entered the political picture one way or another.

In speeches at Marianna, Fort Smith and McCrory Saturday, Rep. Boyd Tackett denounced a proposed amendment to remove the Highway Department from control of the governor's office as a "complete farce."

Tackett said "it does not remove the Department from control of the governor. The system allows the governor to appoint five commissioners on staggered terms who will be completely dominated and controlled by the governor during his two or more years in office."

Gov. McMath and Atty. Gen. Ike Murry, also candidates for governor, claim credit for the amendment, Tackett said.

Murry announced Saturday that Jim Bland, owner and publisher of the Times-Dispatch, at Walnut Ridge would serve as his campaign director. Murry said Bland will work with the Citizens-for-Murry Committee, which will handle his campaign.

Former Atty. Gen. Jack Holt announced that Jimmie Davis, former governor of Louisiana, will appear on the program at MacArthur Park in Little Rock next Saturday night when Holt, officially opens his campaign.

Davis is the composer of such songs as "You Are My Sunshine" and "It Makes No Difference Now." Holt opened his drive-in headquarters in Little Rock Sunday and called it "highly successful." He said about 600 persons visited the headquarters. He said he also spoke at Searcy Saturday night.

Chancellor Francis Cherry of Jonesboro held an informal open-house at his Capital Hotel headquarters in Little Rock.

Gov. McMath was bidding his time as far as active campaigning was concerned but he continued to schedule speeches at various state points.

The general called off all public appearances except a brief visit to a breakfast meeting of Western farm editors. There will be a steak dinner with newsmen late in the day and a quiet evening with his family.

Tomorrow he will officially open his headquarters in the Brown Palace Hotel here and plunge into the stretch fight for the nomination. Over the week end the general gave a generous sample of what can be expected in the days to come.

DOROTHY DIX

Anonymous Letters

Dear Miss Dix: Recently I was separated from my husband and we both went home to our respective families. We were married not quite a year, and were unhappy for reasons which would take too long to explain. A few days ago I received a clipping from your column about a man married to a girl with a mother fixation. I have no idea who sent such a thing, and I don't think the person who sent it knows what he is doing. I admit I did live near my mother, but had I been happy I would have followed my husband anywhere in the world, if necessary.

The person who sent the clipping does not realize that I received competent advice from marriage counselors before I took this drastic step.

Don't you think it was bad taste to send the clipping without even a name?

PANSY
Answer: It is a most despicable thing for anyone to send, or telephone, anonymous messages. I resent very much the use of any part of this column in such a fashion. If the sender of unsigned missives has any idea that his action is guided by a desire to be helpful, he is sadly mistaken, and grievously deluded. His only object is to hurt someone's feelings, reputation or security. The truly helpful person is perfectly willing to give his name in any instance where information is conveyed.

Wants To Cause Trouble
The sender of the column which so disturbed you was motivated by nothing more laudable than a desire to cause trouble.

I might point out, however, that you are not altogether blameless in this anonymously business. You failed to sign your name to the letter sent me, which is as discourteous as any other form of unsigned mail. As I have frequently pointed out, names and addresses are held in strict confidence within the confines of my own desk, and frequently I am in a position to be much more helpful by personal mail than I can be through a column reply.

Whether or not the failure of your marriage was due to a too close relationship between you and your mother is not a consideration in the present problem. However, since you had the advice of competent counselors, I assume that the step taken was the only recourse under existing circumstances.

I'm sure you are sufficiently aware of the ways of the world to know that you will always have to contend with busybodies who will put their own interpretations on your actions. No one is free from this annoyance and its severity increases in proportion to the gravity of the problem involved. A broken marriage is a situation of particular interest to scandalmongers and there's nothing you can do about them but ignore their gossip.

Dear Miss Dix: I am 16 and going to a prom in a few weeks. After these affairs everyone goes night clubbing. I wonder if you'd tell me what to order at these places. I don't drink, of course, but hibition of good conduct can you prove your right to be out on such an important date.

"To thine own self be true" is wonderful advice for you to follow; don't compromise with your principles, or do anything you think is wrong simply for the sake of an impression made on your friends.

Answer: By all means, Kay, and I can't be too emphatic about this, stick to your ginger ale. Even though some thoughtless friend may call you a sissy, your honesty in doing what you know is right will win approval. Furthermore, it is strictly against the law for many places to serve you anything but soft drinks. You are young to be going to a prom, and only by an ex-

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York, June 16 (AP) — The longer we think about it the more intrigued we become with the statement attributed to one of the three officials who voted to keep Jersey Joe Walcott in office. He said, in effect, that you can't take a man's title away on a close decision.

All right, why can't you, and how close is close? How many of the 15 rounds should a challenger be expected to win before he can become a champion? Shall we say one? Two? Three? By the same line of reasoning, shouldn't the Yankees and the Giants each have been given a five or six-game head start in the current pennant race? It causes a man to think.

It seems only yesterday that Big Boy Harris, then manager of the Yankees, would sit in his office at the stadium after a game and raise his glass with the toast "Here's to Joe Page!"

Ducky, the most honest of men, didn't want anyone to think he considered himself a mastermind. The Bombers were winning the '47 flag, and he wanted all to know that Page, his masterful left pitcher, was the man most responsible.

The next year the joyous south-paw didn't have it, and Big Boy lost his job. A few days ago the news came over the wire that Page, at 34, had been released by a club in the Dominican League. Few in and the Russians would be nice. Wedemeyer said that if we had kept on going with the impetus we had, we could have pushed the front of western christendom as far as the old Russo-Polish frontier. At any rate, we could have occupied Germany and spared ourselves the malicious harassment which the Russians have inflicted on us, and to the best of our ability, we could have established a new Germany.

Eisenhower knew Winant well. That being so, he must have known that Winant was an ass and a fool so glibly that it was a terrible betrayal of the interests of the American people to permit him to make a decision on the post-war borders of the defeated German nation.

It is not easy to come by a clear, honest statement of this ghastly case. General George Marshall's memoirs, done in the form of a third-person biography, absolutely ignore both Winant and the European advisory committee. It is necessary to comb many memory books and analyze cautious admissions, many of them cagey lest a plea of guilty be read into them.

Marshall takes no responsibility in this book for the extension of the Soviet frontier to a point far west of the furthest Russian ambitions of the old days. But he does take pleasure in recounting his arrogant, vindictive dismissal of the greatest American soldier, Douglas MacArthur, from his command in Japan.

With gusto he reprints his rude order: "You will turn over your commands, effective at once, to Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. You are authorized to have issued such orders as are necessary to complete desired travel to such place as you select."

Whereas Eisenhower, closing his mind to political disasters, pulled back and let the Russians absorb a vast area of western civilization, MacArthur, in Japan, firmly kept the same enemy at a distance. MacArthur knew the Russian was his enemy. Eisenhower pretended to have no opinion, and to have no legitimate official concern as to the future attitude of the Soviets. This was his stand in spite of the fact that he clearly knew that Stalin already had refused to exchange military information and had even refused until the last minute to let crippled American planes come down in Russia after they had bombed Berlin. The capital of the Soviet Union, it is not to be General A. J. Wedemeyer, who strongly, but vainly, insisted that the Russians back out of Berlin, was

Liming Hay Pastures Pays in Many Ways

Liming hay and pasture land is the farmer in many different ways according to Earl Martindale, chairman of the Hempstead County PMA. It pays in great production, better boned animals, better quality feed and in the health of our people to name only a few of the benefits derived from proper use of agricultural lime.

Lime is a soil conditioner and is absolutely essential to the production of high lime requiring crops, crops on highly acid soils.

In order to determine the acidity of the soil it is necessary to have a test. For complete soil tests, samples should be sent to the University of Arkansas through the Extension Service. The PMA office is in a position to make limited tests for acidity only.

In as much as acidity tests are required as a pre requisite to liming prior to approval covering limestone Mr. Martindale suggests that farmers interested in procuring limestone bring soil samples to the County PMA Office when requesting approval.

The next few months is an ideal time for farmers to attend to their liming needs due to the fact that under existing arrangements the materials is delivered to the farm and spread on the land. Thus eliminating a considerable amount of handling and labor costs. Therefore, this program will function satisfactorily only when the ground is dry enough to hold up the weight of loaded trucks. Under this arrangement ground limestone can be delivered and spread on the farm with a very moderate out-of-pocket cost and no labor at all to the producer.

Due to the fact that this material must be shipped into Hempstead County farmers should place their orders well in advance of the time needed the chairman pointed out.

For complete details contact the local PMA office in the Courthouse in Hope.

Taft Getting the Help of Experts

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 16 (AP) — Win or lose, at least Sen. Taft has had expert help in trying for the presidency. The men around him are a bunch of pros.

There are two Taft headquarters. The one here, the political headquarters, is called the "Taft Committee." The other, in New York, is named "Citizens for Taft." Eisenhower has a political headquarters here and another in New York, called "Citizens for Eisenhower."

In addition to regularly paid staffs, both men get office help from volunteers. And there are various Taft and Eisenhower organizations around the country.

Taft's cousin, David S. Ingalls, is chairman of the Taft Committee here. The New York headquarters is headed by L. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer, the only non-pro in this story.

Like Taft, his cousin Ingalls is an Ohioan, a lawyer, and a Yale man. Besides time spent in the Navy, the gray-haired, pleasant Ingalls has been in politics since the 1920s. He helped Taft in his successful campaign for reelection to the Senate in 1936.

Thomas E. Coleman, a lean and sharp-eyed industrialist from Madison, Wis., is one of the key men around Taft. He was Harold Stassen's campaign manager in 1948, when Stassen got nowhere. He is in charge of Taft's campaign in the Midwest, where he's been in politics a long time. The Taft people picked him to be their floor manager at the convention.

Still in his 30s, Richard L. Gurney handles Taft's publicity. Although his regular job is with a New York public relations firm, he's no political amateur either. He steered Taft's publicity in that 1950 campaign.

Then there's John D. M. Hamilton, who was chairman of the Republican National Committee back in the 1930s when Gov. Alf Landon got the Republican nomination but lost in crashing defeat to President Roosevelt.

Two other top Taft lieutenants are congressmen: Clarence Brown, an Ohio publisher, and Carroll Reece of Tennessee, who has been an educator as well as politician. Both have been in politics for years.

As Dewey's failures showed, the pros around you can't always win you the presidency. But they're a big help in getting you the nomination.

BUSINESS PICKING UP

New York, June 16 (AP) — Out-fighter Willard Marshall of Cincinnati apparently has found a new lease on life since donning a Red-leg uniform. Marshall, recently acquired from the Boston Braves, has hit safely in all 11 games he has played with the Reds. He collected three hits in yesterday's 7-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

RIVERA HITTING STRIDE

St. Louis, June 16 (AP) — It looks as if Jim Rivera, the widely-heralded rookie of the St. Louis Browns finally has located the hitting range in the American League. In his last 27 times at bat, Rivera has garnered 13 hits to boost his average from .206 to .247.

HERE IS HOW PIPELINE WELDS ARE TESTED by mobile X-ray equipment. Technician suspends a pellet of radium at the end of a pole to expose film strapped around the pipe joint. The film is developed immediately in a truck-driven laboratory, and the resultant photo shows whether the weld is perfect.

PIPE WHICH CROSSES RIVERS must be extra strong and heavily weighted. Above, a new type of flexible concrete mixture is sprayed on pipe that will be laid on a river bottom.

THE COATING AND WRAPPING MACHINE rides a new pipeline, covering every inch of steel with tar enamel, glass fiber and a final protective wrapping of abrasion-resistant paper.

THREE MEN WITH AN ELECTRONIC DETECTOR check the new pipe covering to see that it is without flaws. This equipment spots the smallest pinholes in the coating. Any flaws are carefully sealed before the pipe goes in the ground.

SCIENCE WORKS TO PROTECT UNDERGROUND PIPELINES IN HEMPSTEAD COUNTY.

Texas Eastern Uses Exactng Tests and Special Materials to Keep Natural Gas Arteries in Top Condition

Science has developed for the natural gas industry many ways to protect pipelines underground. Texas Eastern puts these scientific methods to work on its existing and new pipelines.

Today pipelines are welded. The big protection job starts here. Inspectors examine welds by X-ray or radium photography to be sure they are perfect.

The welded steel pipe—before it is put in the ground—is scraped, coated, insulated, and wrapped for protection against corrosion. Then these layers of enamel, glass fiber, and paper are inspected electrically to be sure they are without flaw. Finally, to be extra certain, Texas Eastern buries with the pipeline—in acid-soil areas—electric devices that ward off corrosion.

Texas Eastern is continually adopting new scientific developments—such as the latest tough concrete coating for underwater pipelines—to protect its vital gas arteries that run through your area.
